

Good morning

I'm fact checking my article so quick questions

I know that Taraday is directly charging utility for all this appeal work. I don't know that. But how much has the city borrowed from utility and at what rate? $6M at about 5% to be paid back in three years.

Also - are all members of con committee also citizen leaders of EdmondsCanDoBetter? Yes

Vivian said $250k estimates is if no other city or agency is on the ballot? I don't hear school district asking for money - so is this going to be a single sourced ballot measure? As far as I know, yes.

When do you get the con statement from the City and how much leeway do you have to change? Not sure of your question here. The city doesn't provide a "CON" statement. Our CON committee does, and we've already submitted it. We are now awaiting the PRO statement for our opportunity to rebut it.
